Background

We gather and use patient information in order to provide products and services and to enable certain functions on this website.

We also collect information to better understand how visitors use this website and to present timely, relevant information to them online.

Website Forms

Forms on this website collect personal data that you submit, which is then emailed with the intent to store that data on industry standard email hosting and practice management records for the purpose of providing you a service.

Data Gathered on the Website

We may collect your data in a variety of ways on this website. Our lawful basis for collecting and processing your data will be your explicit consent to us to do so. We may store this data indefinitely.

We may collect the following information:

- Contact information including your email address, phone numbers

- Personal details such as age or gender
- Demographic information, such as postal address, preferences and interests
- Website usage data
- Other information relevant to patient enquiries
- Other information pertaining to special offers and surveys

How we use this data

Collecting this data helps us understand what you expect from your practice, enabling us to deliver improved products and services.

Specifically, we may use data:

- For our own internal records
- To transfer or share sensitive patient data with other registered dental or medical professionals
- To improve the products and services we provide
- To contact you in response to a specific enquiry
- To customise the website for you
- To send you promotional emails about products, services, offers and other things we think might be relevant to you.
- To send you promotional mailings or to call you about products, services, offers and other things we think might be relevant to you.
- To contact you via email, telephone or mail for research reasons.

Your individual rights

As an individual, you have the following rights in regard to the data that we collect and store:

- The right to be informed
- The right of access
- The right to rectification
- The right to erasure
- The right to restrict processing
- The right to data portability
- The right to object
- Rights in relation to automated decision making and profiling.

Should you wish to exercise any of these rights

Cookies and how we use them

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small file placed on your computer's hard drive. It enables our website to identify your computer as you view different pages on our website.

Cookies allow websites and applications to store your preferences in order to present content, options or functions that are specific to you. They also enable us to see information like how many people use the website and what pages they tend to visit.

How we use cookies

We may use cookies to:

- Analyse our web traffic using an analytics package. Aggregated usage data helps us improve the website structure, design, content and functions.
- Identify whether you are signed in to our website. A cookie allows us to check whether you are signed in to the site.
- Test content on our website. For example, 50% of our users might see one piece of content, the other 50% a different piece of content.
- Store information about your preferences. The website can then present you with information you will find more relevant and interesting.
- To recognise when you return to our website. We may show your relevant content, or provide functionality you used previously.

Cookies do not provide us with access to your computer or any information about you, other than that which you choose to share with us.

Controlling cookies

You can use your web browser's cookie settings to determine how our website uses cookies. If you do not want our website to store cookies on your computer or device, you should set your web browser to refuse cookies.

However, please note that doing this may affect how our website functions. Some pages and services may become unavailable to you.

Unless you have changed your browser to refuse cookies, our website will issue cookies when you visit it.

To learn more about Cookies, see our Cookie Policy.

Controlling information about you

When you fill in an e-form or provide your personal details on our website, you may see one or more tick boxes allowing you to:

- Opt-in to receive marketing communications from us by email, telephone, text message or post.
- Opt-in to receive marketing communications from our third-party partners by email, telephone, text message or post.

If you have agreed that we can use your information for marketing purposes, you can change your mind easily, via one of these methods:

- Send an email to us at implants@highdental.com.au
- Write to us at GF/1187 High St, Armadale, Melbourne VIC 3143

Any personal information we hold about you is stored and processed under our data protection policy, in compliance with the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988 (Privacy Act).

Security

To prevent unlawful disclosure or access to your information, we have implemented strong physical and electronic security safeguards.

We also follow stringent procedures to ensure we work with all personal data in accordance with the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988 (Privacy Act).

Links from our site

Our website may contain links to other websites. Please note that we have no control of websites outside of the High Dental domain. If you provide information to a website to which we link, we are not responsible for your data protection and privacy.

Always be wary when submitting data via interactive website templates. Study the website data protection policy and the status of the website itself (e.g. is it padlocked or using https:// or green bar transfer protocols?).

Feedback

If you feel that there is a problem with the way that we are handling your data, you may contact us directly:

- Send an email to us at implants@highdental.com.au
- Write to us at GF/1187 High St, Armadale, Melbourne VIC 3143
